Interviewer Instructions
Preferences For Everyday Living Inventory:
MDS 3.0 Section F Items with Follow-Up Questions (PELI-NH-MDS 3.0 Section F)

PELI-Nursing Home-MDS Section F Version 2.0: The main preference questions in this edition are the same as in the previous version, Version 1.0. Detailed follow-up questions have been refined for ease of administration.

1. Introduce yourself to the resident.
   “Hello Mr./Mrs./Ms./Dr. (resident’s last name). My name is (name), and I am the (position) here at (community name).”

2. Describe what you are going to ask the person to do.
   “This conversation will help us get to know you better. The reason I am asking you questions is that the staff here would like to know what is important to you. This will help us plan your care according to the way you like to live your life.”

3. Explain how the interview works.
   “I am going to ask you questions about your preferences. I’d like to focus on what your preferences are right now. Some questions may ask about things you feel you can no longer do by yourself, but I’d still like to know if these activities would be important to you -- if you could do them with assistance or find a way to do them. At any time, if you are uncomfortable with a question, please let me know. Feel free to not answer that question. Before we begin, do you have any questions?”

4. Explain the response choices.
   Take out the response card that reads: “Very Important; Somewhat Important; Not Very Important; Not Important at All; Important, But Can’t Do, No Choice.” Place it in front of the resident and say:
   “I am going to ask whether an activity is important to you or not. Please let me know if the activity is either: Very Important; Somewhat Important; Not Very Important; Not Important at All; Important, But Can’t Do or No Choice.”

   Explain the follow-up questions.
   “Once you have answered how important a preference is to you, I will ask for more details about your preference.”

5. Begin the interview and keep the following scenarios in mind:

   ✓ If a resident has a strong opinion, and states that a preference either is “Very Important,” “Not Very Important,” or “Not Important at All,” ask the resident: “Why? Can you tell me more?” You might gain valuable information for care planning purposes. For example, a resident might say that being around pets is Not Very Important because he or she is afraid of animals. This information will help the care team plan activities sensitive to the person’s fear.

   ✓ If a resident says they can’t do an activity, ask, “Why can’t you do it?” Then record the resident’s response in the “Notes” section. Select “Important, But Can’t Do, No Choice” when residents indicate that a topic is important but that they are physically unable to participate or have no choice about participating while in the nursing home.
If a resident does not respond to a question, or says “I don’t know,” or the question is not applicable, check “No Response/NA.”

If the resident prefers to answer questions by choosing between “Important” or “Not Important,” that is an excellent way to begin. If the resident selects “Important,” ask: “Would you say [activity] is Very Important, Somewhat Important or Important, But Can’t Do or No Choice?” Similarly, if the resident says “Not Important,” ask: “Would you say [activity] is “Not Very Important” or “Not Important at All”? Clarifying the level of importance will help the care team follow the resident’s priorities for care planning.

6. When asking detailed questions under each preference item, ask the open-ended question first and write down the resident’s response. Then:

- If the resident can tell you easily about a preference, feel free to skip the list of prompts and continue to the next question. Be sure to record every comment that might have meaning for the care team.
- If the resident cannot freely answer the question or provide details about a preference, use the prompts to help the resident to recall or share preferences more easily.

7. Stop the interview if:

- The resident becomes fatigued. It is not necessary to complete the entire questionnaire in one session. If the resident is tired, offer to stop the interview and return at another time.
- The resident refuses to answer any more questions. Respect the resident’s wishes and discontinue the interview. Try to interview a family member, friend or staff person (called a “proxy”) who knows the resident well. Be sure to mark and retain the resident’s answers on the questionnaire, and then ask the proxy to pick up where the resident left off. Note which questions the proxy answered.
- The resident gives more than five “Non-Responses” in a row. Stop the interview and ask a proxy to respond instead.

As you conclude the interview, thank the resident for spending time with you. Let the resident know how much you enjoyed getting to know him or her better.

Remember: PELI interviews are meant to be an enjoyable conversation, not simply a task to be completed. Preference interviews provide a meaningful opportunity to truly get to know residents and gather valuable insight that will help your community personalize care and enhance resident quality of life. Keep in mind that the interview can be completed in more than one conversation, rather than a single sitting.

“I am going to ask you questions about your preferences. I would like to know what your preferences are right now. Some of the questions may ask about things you feel you can no longer do by yourself, but I’d like to know if these activities would be important to you if you could do them with assistance or find a way to do it.”
